SUMMER LESSUEE.

People Who Want to Keep Cool-The NI-

At the King street depot this morning there was quite a large throng present to witness the departure of the excursionists to Niagara over the Philadelphia & Reading and Lehigh Valley routes. Between twenty and twenty five tickets had been sold and those who left on the 7:55 train were as follows: Miss Kate Kelly. Miss Mary Ann McGrann, Miss Agnes Kelly, Miss Kate Dougherty, Miss Lydia Flinn, Mrs. R. A. Malone, of this city; Miss Maggie Wade, of Elizabethtown, and Miss Kerns, of Mount Joy; Messrs. J. F. Ricksecker, John E. Malone and Christ Hgelgans, city; Chas. C. Hensel, Quarryville; Daniel Helm, New Providence; Samuel Stewart, New Providence; Reuben Long, Mount Joy, and William Woods, Leaman Place. Besides these, Mr. William Wiley, of Bair & Shenk's banking house, and Mr. Frank L. Sprecher, left this afternoon, and there are probably several others who will leave later, the tickets, if purchased to-day, being good to and to remain fifteen days. The following is a partial list of the persons who left for the same point via Pennsylvania railroad this morning at 11:05, the whole number of tickets purchased having been forty-five and two halves:

At the east end of the hall will be a stairway leading to the second floor, which will be a single room to be used as a study hall. This room will have an arched ceiling fully 18 feet from the floor.

It will be well lighted and ventilated and heated in the most approved manner. In addition to the main entrance on Duke street, there will be a side entrance on Walnut street. The new building will cost about $5,000 and will be finished about the 15th of October, and when finished will be one of the most commodious and comfortable school buildings in the

The Yeates Institute was projected and endowed by the late Catherine Yeates. It was designed as a school to prepare boys for admission into any college, preference being given to those whose inclination and talent fitted them for the Episcopal ministry. After seasons of varying prosperity and adversity the school was closed some ten years ago and only reopened in 1377. It started with 19 pupils and under its excellent management the number has been increased to 36. When the new building is completed it will accommodate a much larger number. The old building adjoining, a very commodious structure, will be used by the principal as a residence, and as a boarding house for those among the pupils who may require such accommodation.

NARROW ESCAPE.

A Team Almost Struck by an Engine. This morning Newton McCartney was driving a horse belonging to A. B. Shæffer which was hitched to a buggy, up North Queen street. When he reached the crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad at the depot, he attempted to cross. Just at that moment the engine of mail train, No. 2, which was running backwards and hauling two cars, put in an appearance. Mc-Cartney did not see the train nor the watchman, who beckoned to him to stay back. The train was not running fast, and as soon as McCartney saw it he pulled the right line of the horse and suddenly wheeled the animal into the depot through which he drove to Christian street where he drove out, thus escaping without the least injury to the buggy or the horse. A large number of persons witnessed the escape and all were positive that both man and horse would be killed. When McCartnev cleared the track the engine was but a few inches from the buggy, and it was only through his coolness and presence of mind that he escaped with his life.

Rape Case Dismissed. Christian Nixdorf, 19 years of age, was arrested vesterday on a charge of attempting to commit a rape on a five-year-old daughter of William Gast of Manor street. The child was examined by a physician, who found that an attempt of the kind had been made, but it was unsuccessful. The child stated that Nixdorf was the guilty party. The hearing was to have taken place before Alderman Donnelly, of the Eighth ward, last evening, but the little girl's father, who was the prosecutor, failed to appear, and it was dismissed. It is said that friends of the young man who themselves in his behalf and induced Mr. Gast not to appear against him.

Mayor's Court. This morning the mayor sent one drunk who had been before him several times during the past month to jail for fifteen days. Another drunk was discharged on payment of costs, and two vagrants who had sought lodging were left off.

Robuilding. E. J. Zahm's jewelry store, corner of Centre Square and North Queen street, presents a rather dilapidated appearance just now, the reason being that Mr. Zahm has found it to be necessary to greatly enlarge and entirely refit his place of business, and to do so required an entire remodeling of the building. The partition which heretofore divided the ground floor into two storerooms has been torn out, and Mr. Zahm will hereafter occupy the entire New Jersey has an extraordinary effect in space. New yellow pine floors are being laid and the front of the building will be remodeled and made more attractive. The new store room will be about 30 by 30 feet, elegantly furnished with new show cases of unique design, and all the appointments and appurtenances will be of a high style of art. The second floor will be used as a clock room, and the third floor as a manufactory of clocks and watches. The improvements will require two or three weeks to finish, and until that time Mr. Zahm will be obliged to "worry through" by using the second and third stories

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.

A Child Chokes to Death. Last evening a little daughter of Samuel Aungst, who resides on the Harrisburg turnpike about a mile east of Mt. Joy, choked to death. She was eating an apple and got a piece of it in her windpipe. Efforts were made to get it out but it was of no avail and the girl soon died. Dr. Hiestand of Mt. Joy was sent for when the girl began choking but before he arrived the girl was dead. Coroner Mishler received a telegram this forenoon and he left on the 10 o'clock train to hold an inquest on the remains.

-Coroner Mishler returned from Mount Joy at 3 o'clock this afternoon. He held an inquest on the remains of the child and the jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the above facts. He says that the accident occurred about 5 o'clock last Heat and Sickness During the hot and sultry weather an unusual amount of sickness prevails in every community, especially among females and children, caused by the fermenting miasma gas or nitrogenous matter floating in the air, arising from decaying vegetation. This bad air affects everything we eat, and engenders in it a semi-fermentation, which, when taken in the system is like leaven, and operates on the whole, starting in the bowels and soon producing a violent fermentation, causing diarrhos and dysentery. It has been found that that the use of Speer's old Port Grape Wine of checking this termentation and restoring the system to its original strength and vigor. Invalids and debilitated persons have found It the most nutritious and strengthening tonic in the market, and the greatest help in resisting the poisonous effects of the vitiated atmosphere. This wine, so long established, has become the standard wine upon which physicians rely as the most rich in body and genuine in character, containing the greatest amount of medicinal properties with the least intoxicating qualities. Speer's vineyards produce a larger yield this year than usual, and he has reduced the price of his wine that any person can now purchase it of druggists for $1 per bottle. None of this wine is bottled until it is four years old.—Gazette.

This wine is endorsed by Drs. Atlee and Davis, and sold by H. E. Slaymaker.

Brandy as a Medicine.

The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. E. Siaymaker, Agent for Keigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physi-cian of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the attention of those af-flicted with Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE. This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which or some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims. With a purely pidianthropic motive we pre-sent to the favorable notice of invalids—espe-cially those afflicted with that miserable dis-cuse Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than Brandy.

The aged, with feeble appetite and mere or less debifity, will find this simple medicine, when used properly,

A Sovereign Remedy or all their ills and aches. Be it, however trictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is REIGART'S OLD BRANDY,

Sold by our enterprising young friend, H E SLAYMAKER. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandies, no matter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are branded. One fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case or cases. In proof of the curative powers of cases. In proof of the curative powers of Reigart's Old Brandy,

In cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon num bers of witnesses—one case in particular we

A hard-working farmer had been afflicted with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour eructations constantly—no appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now, preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed carnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try Reigart's Old Brandy,

In his case, he looked up with astonishment, but after hearing of its wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he chose to eat. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this medicine he has been of very little pecuniary benefit to the doctor.—A Practising Physician.
